

“IRREGARDLESS OF THE WEATHER, I’M WALKING HOME”

IRREGARDLESS ISN’T A WORD.”

The Linguistic Reality:

There is no single “correct” way to speak English. Is it really the case that you can’t understand someone when they use language that you might not? When we police someone’s language, are we judging the way they speak, or are we really judging them?
